ITALY CALLING MORE MEN TO COLORS FOR SERVICE IN AFRICA

New Incidents Charged Against Ethiopia as Mobilization Orders Are Issued to Bring Colonial Forces to 225,000 Soldiers—British Embassy Protests Against Press Attacks

ROME, May 31 (AP).—Italy mobilized 44,000 more troops for service in East Africa today shortly after new "provocative" incidents calculated to strain still further Italy's already tense relations with Ethiopia were officially reported. The Government-controlled press said the new mobilization orders, which push past 225,000 the total soldiers and workmen destined for Africa, represented "Italy's decision to answer by force of arms the menaces of the situation."

An official communique, issued earlier, charged Ethiopian authorities and soldiers with arresting Italian diplomatic couriers carrying mail to the Italian consulate at Gondar, on May 12, ransacking the mail, and releasing the couriers from jail at Ras Gassa only after representations by the consulate.

ASSAULTS CRITICS
Sharply assailed in today's newspapers were certain "unfounded" European quarters, which criticized or tended to obstruct Italy's policy toward Ethiopia.

French and British press at Geneva last week caused Italy to accept arbitration of her quarrel with Ethiopia, something Benito Mussolini previously had rejected. (Authoritative quarters at London said, Friday, the British Embassy in Rome has protested to the Italian Government attacks made by the Italian press against Great Britain, on the grounds that the Government was responsible.)

REID'S FISHING BILL DEFEATED

House Rejects Measure to Prohibit Seine Fishing in Fraser River Mouth

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP).—The fishing industry of British Columbia is falling into the control of Eastern capitalists, it was charged in the House of Commons tonight by Thomas Reid, Liberal (Saskatoon). His bill to prohibit seine fishing in the mouth of the Fraser River, giving the business to individual fishermen, was defeated.

The Western fishing industry, Mr. Reid said, is falling under the control of the "Gundy interests of the East," and "I say the vested interests are just soaking the people."

He claimed retail prices for canned salmon were lower in the United States than in Canada, although American fishermen were paid higher prices for their catch.

ATTACKS OFFICIAL
The Reid bill originally was killed in the House fishing committee after the British Columbia member claimed that W. A. Found, deputy minister of fisheries, had given misleading evidence. He claimed that witnesses should have been called from the Pacific Coast, who knew conditions.

Hon. Grote Stirling, acting minister of fisheries, attacked the Reid bill as not being in the best interests of the industry and Canada's output of canned salmon.

William Ernst (Conservative, Queens-Lunenburg), defended the deputy minister of fisheries as "sincere and honest in his efforts to better the industry."

HOPE TO REOPEN TACOMA PLANTS

Employees of Nine Sawmills Taking Vote on Proposal to End Strike

TACOMA, May 31 (AP).—An attempt to reopen the Tacoma sawmills, shut down since the calling of the lumber and timber workers' strike on May 6, was started here today by a body of employee representatives, independent of union investigation, looking for an impartial and uncoerced expression of opinion by workers on a proposal to return to work.

Letters explaining the basis upon which lumber workers can return to their jobs immediately in nine of the leading mills here, together with a return post card upon which a vote for or against the proposal can be cast without signature, to insure secrecy, were mailed out this evening to workers of the nine plants involved.

Stoner Found Guilty of Rattenbury Murder as Co-Defendant Goes Free

Pleads for British Restriction of Soviet Timber Imports

LONDON, May 31 (CP Havas).—Restriction of Soviet Union timber imports to Britain in favor of Canadian timber was urged today before the Canadian Chamber of Commerce of London by Loren L. Brown, returning British Columbia timber commissioner, at a luncheon in his honor.

"Unless some limitation is imposed," he said, "Canadian timber cannot continue to flourish in the British market. A 10 per cent preference is not in itself sufficient. There must be quantitative control."

Intensify Hunt For Kidnappers Of Tacoma Boy

Latest Clues Again Point to Vicious Karpis Gang as George Weyerhaeuser Remains in Hands of Abductors—Reward May Be Offered for Capture of Criminals

TACOMA, May 31 (AP).—The needle of suspicion in the $200,000 George Weyerhaeuser abduction swung tonight over an array of shady specialists in murder, kidnapping and robbery, but again pointed most frequently to remnants of the vicious Karpis gang.

The name of Volney Davis, lieutenant of the arch criminal Alvin Karpis, Montreal-born leader of the mob that kidnapped Edward G. Bremer, of St. Paul, popped into the picture for a second time in Tacoma tonight.

SEVENTH DAY ENDED
The seventh day of the disappearance ended at noon, automatically invoking the legal presumption the nine-year-old lumber heir either had been slain or taken across a state boundary line and thus permitting prosecution under the Lindbergh law.

The official announcement added von Ribbentrop was being charged with a "special mission."

He was recently named head of the Reich delegation to the Anglo-German naval conversations, which were guests at a luncheon in London, June 4.

The appointment, the first of his kind to be made officially in Germany since the advent of the Nazis, is believed to have been made for this conference.

May Lead Drive For Revision of U.S. Constitution

Roosevelt Says Supreme Court Decision on NRA Ties Hands of Federal Government on All Economic and Social Questions—Crop Curtailment May Be Abandoned

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP).—President Roosevelt today appealed the Supreme Court's NRA decision to the people. Hinting strongly at an effort to revise the constitution, he asserted at a press conference the United States must decide whether the Federal Government shall, or shall not, have authority to deal with what the administration considers grave economic and social problems of national scope and import.

The President challenged directly the Supreme Court's interpretation of the fundamental law and declared the court had "relegated the nation to the days of the horse and buggy."

Surveying the wreckage of NRA, Mr. Roosevelt declared the Federal alcohol control administration, as now constituted, had been abolished and the agricultural adjustment administration and securities exchange commission were threatened.

Two possible courses. While stock and staples markets quickly hit a downward trend, Washington interpreted Mr. Roosevelt's remarks as indicating future administration policy would follow one of two courses:

The submission of an amendment to the constitution giving Congress specifically the powers it sought to wield in NRA, but which the court said were denied the Federal Government by the fundamental law.

A campaign of public education and agitation to lead to the court's philosophy which led it to confine interstate commerce, as Mr. Roosevelt interpreted the opinion, to goods in transit.

The President made it plain he regarded the high court opinion, if followed in future decisions, as virtually tying the hands of the Federal Government on all economic and social questions and lodging their solution with the forty-eight states.

Human nature being what it is, he intimated, there remained little possibility of effective accomplishment through voluntary codes.

Not only was the Federal Government enjoined from attempting to touch the field of commerce and business, he said, but that of agriculture as well. Obviously, he added, abandonment of the crop curtailment programme would, under present world product conditions, result in 36-cent wheat and 8-cent cotton.

The question of regarding the street, however, was thought to be out of the question. The general opinion of the administration was that the B.C.E.R. company could not be persuaded to retrace its tracks with the transit franchise running out in three years' time.

MUCH TRACK WORK. Alderman Walter Loney expressed the opinion that if the B.C.E.R. Company renewed its franchise, it would have to do nearly $200,000 worth of track work all over the city.

Alderman Archie Wills and Alderman MacGavin fought against the expenditure of only $500, contending that such would be insufficient to do the necessary work. Alderman John Worthington, however, stated that the street could be put into a passable condition with that amount of money, and that little permanent work could be done until after the franchise question had been settled with the B.C.E.R. company.

GETS DAMAGES FOR INJURIES. George Davis Is Awarded $1,141.50 in Suit Against Radio Station.

In a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Lucas in the Supreme Court here, an award of $850 general damages and $291.50 special damages is made in favor of George Davis for injuries he received when he fell from the pole of the radio station in the Central Building.

The plaintiff at the time was painting the pole, using a bosun's chair in the operation. The action was brought against George Davis, of the radio station, and was recently tried before His Lordship.

In reaching his conclusion, His Lordship approves of using the chair as a method of doing the work, and cannot follow the contention of the defence that a ladder should have been used as was advised.

The weakness of the contrivance used was held by the court to have been due to the inclusion of a piece of rope which supplemented the cable in one place. He found that when to ease the strain upon the cable, the rope was passed around a spike driven into the pole, the short bend at that place caused it to part, precipitating the plaintiff on the roof.

Sent Letter Last July to Department of Justice Concerning Alleged Disparaging Remarks About Miss Agnes Macphail by J. D. Dawson

OTTAWA, May 31 (CP).—A. G. Hall, of Toronto, former convict, swore today before Commissioner E. J. Daly that seven months before his release he made a charge to the Department of Justice that Inspector J. D. ## DEATH CLAIMS OLD RESIDENT

Mrs. Mary Cavin Succumbs Suddenly While En Route To Victoria

Stricken on the train while en route to Victoria from Barkerville, Mrs. Mary Cavin, aged sixty-four years, a resident of Victoria for the past forty-five years, died on Tuesday at Pemberton Meadows, B.C., it was learned here yesterday.

The deceased was born in Bruce County, Ont. She was the widow of Guy Cavin. Mrs. Cavin was a member of Centennial Union Church.

THOSE WHO SURVIVE. She is survived by one son, Guy, in Toronto; two daughters, Mrs. Thelma Cull, of Victoria, and Mrs. Blanche Dugan, of Cobble Hill; five grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Hastings Brown, Victoria; Mrs. Anne Hepburn, Vancouver; and Mrs. Caroline Forman, Vegreville, Alta.; and three brothers, Robert Landers, Kinsella, Alta.; Arthur Landers, Elk Point, Alta.; and Joseph Landers, Ruby, Alaska.

INTENSIFY SEARCH FOR 'KIDNAP' GANG. Continued from Page 1. (Baby Face) Nelson, in connection with the Weyerhaeuser case. The result was not disclosed.

OTHERS SUSPECTED. Even straggling members of the broken George (Machinegun) Kelly mob—active under the aiding and investigation when a Federal officer here acknowledged he would "like to talk to" Ed Bents, missing Tacoma associate of Kelly and Albert Bates.

About 135 officers, including fifteen Federal agents, remained in leash here while associates of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Jr., presumably continued the forlorn attempt to get in touch with the abductors and hand them $200,000 ransom.

One authoritative source talked of the possibility of $25,000 reward might be offered soon, primarily in an effort to obtain the release of the boy through hitherto untied channels.

IDENTIFIES PICTURE. Fred Stojack, a University of Washington student, brought the name of henchman Davis back into the case again today. Stojack said he sat in the same bus seat last Friday night with a man who was reading a letter addressed to "Volney Davis." It was postmarked Chicago. The student picked Davis' picture later from a group of photographs.

Three persons connected with the management of two apartment houses here already had identified pictures of Davis as a man who had sought to rent rooms a week ago and had acted suspiciously and finally vanished.

REPERCUSSIONS FELT. Repercussions of the French crisis were felt on Friday in Amsterdam, London and Montreal. Netherlands authorities raised the Netherlands' bank discount rate from 4 to 5 per cent, while monetary experts said they did not believe the guilder could remain at the present gold parity with the French franc were depreciated.

A further fall in gold currency on the London Exchange resulted from the French situation, with the United States dollar depreciating 2.9-16 cents to the pound and closing officially at $495 3-16. The French franc slipped to 75.25 to the pound, as compared with Thursday's quotation of 74.70.

Trading on the Montreal exchanges was virtually paralyzed, as traders, influenced by the uncertain political situation in France and the market taken at Amsterdam, refused to offer quotations. French francs, Swiss francs or Dutch guilders.

MANY APPEALS ON LIST FOR REVIEW HERE

B.C. Tribunal to Deal With Fourteen Criminal and Eleven Civil Cases

JUNE SITTING WILL BEGIN ON TUESDAY

There is a long list of cases to come before the British Columbia Court of Appeal which opens on Tuesday in the courthouse here. In the matter of criminal cases, there are fourteen listed for review, including an appeal from the decision of Judge Lamphurn in the case against Nellie Anderson of having performed an illegal operation which is taken by the Crown, following the acquittal of the accused in the County Court.

Another appeal is one taken on behalf of Douglas Hodgson, sentenced to two months in jail by Magistrate Jay on a charge of having caused serious bodily harm in striking W. J. Stevenson with a hammer.

There are a number of criminal appeals which arise out of the convictions at the recent Assizes in Vancouver when Joe Celona and several others were given terms of imprisonment following the "clean-up" campaign in a moral way in that city.

CLEAN-UP CASES. Celona, who is represented by Stuart Henderson, of this city, has two appeals covering two convictions. Several others who were convicted of being associated in similar alleged immoral practices have entered appeals.

Among the civil cases to come up for review is one taken from the decision of Judge Lamphurn in Gilliland & Co. et al. vs. Roberts, with F. C. Elliott for the plaintiffs, appellants, and Cleave G. White for the other side.

The litigation over the Pioneer Mines is still before the courts and an appeal regarding the mining property will be argued during the sitting of the court.

TO PROTECT THE FRANC. Bousson gained the backing of the Radical Socialists by promising any emergency financial powers to be used only to protect the franc and stimulate business.

It was Flaminio's demand for similar semi-dictatorial powers to "save the franc" that brought the Government dramatic defeat in the Chamber of Deputies, the deputies voting non-confidence in his ministry, 353 to 202.

Meanwhile an unending golden stream, representative of the flight from the franc, still flowed out of the vaults of the Bank of France, and the question of devaluation of the currency remained an open issue.

Gold shipments since the rush of withdrawals started March 29 total about 13,000,000,000 francs ($858,000,000), with the tempo steadily increasing. During the week ending May 24, 3,166,000,000 francs were withdrawn. Since the Chamber of Deputies was told last night, daily withdrawals have exceeded 1,000,000,000.

REPERCUSSIONS FELT. Repercussions of the French crisis were felt on Friday in Amsterdam, London and Montreal. REHEARING IS NOT PERMITTED

Mr. Justice Lucas Says His Original Order in Surveyors' Case Stands

Mr. Justice Lucas has handed down his judgment in the appeal made to him in the Supreme Court here recently to reconsider the case in which he had decided that the Corporation of British Columbia Land Surveyors had exceeded its powers in imposing a fine upon Noel Humphreys for violating the rules of the organization and in not affording Mr. Humphreys proper opportunity to present his defence.

His decision is that his original order shall stand. "I consider that having heard the appeal in the first instance and having given the order of the board, my authority to deal further with the matter in these proceedings is at an end, and the order will go as originally directed."

Says His Lordship. "He decided that it would not be proper having made the order to take further evidence himself or to direct a rehearing by the board."

Stevens Cleared Of Implications Made in Report

Investigator of Defunct Company Admits Findings Based on Incomplete Information — Former Minister Returned All Commissions Received When Firm Failed

TORONTO, May 31 (CP).—Powers to investigate "prosecutions and proposed prosecutions" arising from collapse of the Manufacturers' Finance Corporation seven years ago were conferred by order-in-council today on J. M. Godfrey, K.C., Ontario securities commissioner.

The order which empowers the commissioner to investigate "circumstances surrounding the prosecution and proposed prosecutions arising out of the bankruptcy of the Manufacturers' Finance Corporation and into recommendations made by law officers of the Crown concerning the said prosecutions or proposed prosecutions" was delivered to Mr. Godfrey as he concluded another session of an inquiry as securities commissioner into affairs of the company.

Earlier Joseph Sedgwick, who prepared a report for Mr. White, told the commission there had been no recommendation by him for prosecution against Hon. H. H. Stevens, former Minister of Trade and Commerce; Colonel Robert Stark, of Montreal, or W. J. Westaway, of Hamilton, three of the former directors.

That still leaves a lot of others, Mr. Godfrey commented as Sedgwick replied to Dana Porter, counsel for Stark and Westaway. Parts of the report made by Mr. Sedgwick for his department were quoted to the commission by Norman Somerville, K.C., and Peter White, K.C., acting for Mr. Stevens and Senator J. Anthony McDonald, former president, respectively.

ADMITTS MISTAKE
To them Sedgwick admitted he was mistaken when he suggested in his report there had been a "secret agreement" to pay Mr. Stevens 20 per cent commission on sales of the company stock in British Columbia. Sedgwick, under examination by Mr. Somerville, said he had not seen at the time his report was written records showing the agreement to pay the commission to Mr. Stevens was approved by the board of directors. He also agreed Mr. Stevens "apparently had done work for the company," regarding sales of stock in England, and was entitled to the $300 traveling expenses which his report suggested was necessary.

Mr. Somerville attacked the report, parts of which he claimed to be unfounded, and argued that further investigation should have been made before "inaccurate charges" against Mr. Stevens were published all over the country.

WILLING TO EXPLAIN
He read correspondence from Mr. Stevens to G. T. Clark, receiver for the bankrupt company, offering himself for examination and giving assurance "there is nothing I would not be willing to state in the most frank manner."

This was followed by return to the receiver of all commissions received by Mr. Stevens, who said he "would not like to profit in any way."

HIS LUMBAGO HAS NOT COME BACK

Keeps Free of It With Kruschen

There can be no doubt about the effectiveness of the Kruschen salt in the case of a man who has had a bad attack of lumbago. After being in hospital for two weeks taking heat treatment, I started taking Kruschen salts. Since then, I have been happy to say, I have not been troubled with lumbago. I shall still continue taking Kruschen to be sure the lumbago won't come back.

Why is it that Kruschen is so effective in keeping lumbago at bay? Simply because it goes right down to the root of the trouble, and removes the cause, which is an impure bloodstream. The six salts in Kruschen keep the bloodstream pure and vigorous by promoting a clockwork regularity of all the organs of elimination. (Adv.)

FUND CAMPAIGN CLOSING TODAY

Special Appeal Made by Salvation Army—Money Is Urgently Needed

Owing to so many appeals being launched at this particular time, the annual "self-denial" appeal of the Salvation Army has suffered a severe setback. It was announced yesterday by army officials. Accordingly, as the fund closes today, a special appeal is made to local residents to support the campaign.

The fund is described as the "lifeblood" of the Army, and it proceeds go towards maintaining the organization and its fine work. It is used for special purposes and emergencies.

To facilitate collections, the managements of the Playhouse, Dominion and Capitol Theatres here, have sanctioned the placing of collectors at the doors of the three houses tonight, in order that patrons may contribute to the fund. It was felt, too, by Army executives in Victoria, that many persons who had intended giving to the army had been put off from their original intention owing to the holidays surrounding the May 24 celebrations. It is earnestly requested that all donations be made as quickly as possible in order that the fund may be closed.

Donations may be sent to the Salvation Army—Clasdel, Broad Street, or given personally to any member of the organization.

Normal School Has Annual Exhibition Of Students' Work

Many Visitors Present Yesterday Afternoon to See Interesting Display of Projects—Guests Entertained With Tea and Programme

SOME of the numerous channels through which artistic taste is being developed in the young womanhood of the day were demonstrated in the display of students' projects shown at the Provincial Normal School, Mount Tolmie, yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the annual visitors' day, which precedes the closing of the institution for the Summer.

Ahd, in addition to the interesting classroom projects illustrating what the students are doing in Miss Isibister's household economics class, buter's household economics class, a very practical demonstration of the girls' lessons was seen in the attractive frocks which they were whilst serving sandwiches, cakes and tea, which they themselves had prepared for the afternoon guests.

Tea was served in the main auditorium from two prettily-appointed tables decked with bowls of columbines and yellow tapers, the ladies presiding at the urns being Mrs. G. M. Weir, Mrs. E. J. Willis, Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin, Mrs. V. L. Denton, Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. H. L. Campbell, Mrs. John Gough and Mrs. F. T. C. Wickett.

TEACHERS TO-BE
The classroom exhibits were shown in upstairs rooms, and furnished illustrations of what the teachers-to-be are learning in preparation for passing on to the boys and girls who will be in their classrooms in the years to come.

The lessons are of a most practical nature. In Miss Isibister's household economics section were shown projects, prepared by the students, in house furnishing, the manufacture of cotton goods, woollens, linens, rayons and other textiles used in various articles about the home or in the dress.

All prepared in the form of attractively-bound books, where picture or sample of the material and text were shown side by side, these took up fully the story of the various processes through which flax, wool, wood fibre and cotton have to pass before they are ready to be worked up into articles of common use.

There were also project books on articles of common household use, such as tea, coffee, flour, salt, etc.

ATTRACTIVE DESIGN
All projects in their preparation gave demonstration of the continuity of studies at the Normal School, the decoration on the covers of the books illustrating principles in design learned in the art classes under John Gough's direction, while decorations on the bridge table covers and the patterns on the linens and wallpapers used in "The Ideal Kitchen" plans also reflected these same principles.

"Much of the modern girl's appreciation of artistic linoleums and wallpapers arises from taste developed in just such courses as are given nowadays in the normal schools," one of the mothers was heard to remark.

"The Ideal Kitchen" is another of the studies which the Normal School girls have had during the past year. Many interesting ideas, showing a highly practical turn of mind allied with a sense of the artistic in kitchen decoration, were shown in some of the projects displayed.

The needlework section of the display was also excellent, including many articles such as knitted or crocheted sweaters, pullovers, babies' clothing and girls' dresses.

ART ROOM
Across the hall from this display was the art room, showing the type of work done by students working under the covers of the art classes directed by John Gough and B. S. Freeman. Developing themes for kindergarten classes, the students had various projects in torn paper depicting trees and other objects in nature. Industries such as wheat growing and the mining of coal were shown in progressive studies prepared as drawings and shown on large cardboard posters. The children of the Model School had a number of exhibits that amplified this one of the posters prepared by the boys and girls illustrating the manufacture of sugar from the raw stage up to the completed product.

Suffers Severe Injuries When Ladder Breaks

His condition described as "serious," Eli Hume, 1222 Faithful Street, a building contractor, was in Royal Jubilee Hospital last night suffering from severe head and back injuries, sustained when a ladder on which he was working yesterday broke.

Mr. Hume was renovating a house at 602 Island Road, and was catapulted off the ladder and fell about twenty feet.

He was taken to hospital in the C. & C. ambulance and is being treated by Dr. Gordon C. Kenning.

IN NEED OF HORSE SENSE

R. A. McKelvie Says Issues Should Replace Scandals And Innuendoes

VANCOUVER, May 31 (CP).—British Columbia needs common horse sense, the most uncommon commodity in the province, Bruce A. McKelvie, of Victoria, grand-facade of the Native Sons of British Columbia, said last night in addressing Post No. 2 here.

"We are in the state in British Columbia," Mr. McKelvie said. "We have the mayor of our largest city, the Premier of our province and the Prime Minister of our Dominion passing responsibility back and forth, and calling each other names."

BASED ON SCANDALS
"Every election in the last twenty years has been based on scandals and innuendoes rather than issues. It is impossible to build a sound state on that basis. Our duty as native sons is to develop an appreciation of good citizenship, and it should be our purpose to outline constructive policies to the Government."

Three mistakes of the past were responsible in large measure for present-day conditions here, he said. First was the Land Act of 1858. Then came the promiscuous settlement with 75 per cent of the homesteaders failing to make good.

LAND IN "COLD STORAGE"
"The Government should take all its pre-emption land off the market," Mr. McKelvie said. "There is too much land in 'cold storage.' Districts such as the Queen Charlotte Islands, maintained at high cost to the Government, and benefiting only a few, should be closed down and the people induced to settle in British Columbia's agricultural blocks."

During a mock air attack on Naples, visitors were treated as imaginary casualties. In the interest of realism some of them, no doubt, pretended to have seen Naples and died.

Credit Conclave Reports Offered As Meetings End

Supplementary reports on the recent credit conference held in Seattle were presented at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Victoria Credit Granters' Association, held in the Douglas Cafe. The luncheon was the last of the present season, and meetings will start again next September.

The meeting took the form of a general discussion, as various members of the association asked pertinent questions concerning the study groups held at the conference.

Walter Fletcher led the discussion on installment regulations and asked three questions from a series which were presented at the conference. The bureau managers' group report was offered by Harry B. Dawson, bureau manager and association secretary. Oliver M. Prentice led a five-question discussion on business house administration and credit problems generally.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

RELAXATION ALMOST AS VALUABLE AS SLEEP

So much has been written about the value of sleep that many nervous individuals worry themselves into sleeplessness. They fear dire ailments or even insanity if they don't get a certain number of hours of sleep each night.

Now sleep is valuable because it gives rest to all the organs and tissues of the body. Sleep does not give "complete" rest because during sleep all the processes of the body keep working just the same, except that they are working at a slower rate. Thus some hours after the evening meal and digestion is completed the heart rate is slower, the blood pressure lower, and breathing slower. "In other words although all these processes are working the slow rate at which they are working allows all the tissues to gather energy just as a battery can be recharged overnight when removed from your car.

This, then, is why sleep is so valuable; it means no energy is being given out, but energy is being taken in or stored.

Now, while nothing can take the place of real sleep, with every muscle relaxed, it has been found that if an individual is unable to sleep, but can relax body and mind to a point almost approaching sleep, he can attain as high as 80 per cent. of the value of sleep. It is estimated that two hours sleep in the twenty-four will keep anyone alive, so that with complete relaxation for four hours and say four hours sleep you might be fully capable of doing your work.

However the first thought should be to find out why you don't sleep. Is the bedroom noisy, ill ventilated, too hot or too cold? Are you hungry, or do you drink tea, coffee, alcohol before going to bed? Are you worried, anxious, overworked from work, or not tired enough to sleep?

Is there any physical condition such as cough, pain, gas in stomach or intestine that may prevent sleep? To prevent sleeplessness and invite sleep anything that can be corrected in your bedroom or yourself should be done at once so that this "nagging" annoyance is removed. As worry is the most frequent cause of sleeplessness and worry about sleeping further increases that worry, remembering that complete relaxation is "almost as good" as sleep itself should enable you to relax and so go off to sleep.

Enough outdoor exercise without overdoing it, brings on a "natural" need for sleep that is better than any other method of inducing sleep.

CRICKET LINE-UP

The Albions and Incogs will play a cricket match this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, at Beacon Hill. The Albions will field the following players: Smith, Gibbons, E. Freeman, P. Freeman, N. Pitt, D. Pitt, Pritchard, Swan, Forbes, Barclay and Finch.

There has been a steady increase in Holy Week and Easter services throughout Scotland during the past fifteen years, and more particularly since the union of 1929. The Edinburgh Scotsman on Good Friday morning carried almost a full column of services advertised among Presbyterian bodies.

THREE PLANS ARE EVOLVED

Ald. Andrew McGavin to Offer Alternatives in Water Rate Fight

Three alternative proposals for special summer water rates for small house owners will be placed before a special meeting of the water board to be held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. This meeting was called at the request of Alderman Andrew McGavin, chairman of the board, when the public works committee was unable to consider his scheme at yesterday's session, owing to the lateness of the hour.

Alderman McGavin has three plans for consideration of the council. The first, which is already been outlined, would give small house owners a fifty-cent reduction in the service charge for the three summer months.

SECOND PLAN

Another scheme is that the small house owner pay for 600 cubic feet of water, if he consumes amount at the regular rate, but that all water used in excess of 600 cubic feet be charged on a basis of five cents per 100 cubic feet, or half of that the domestic rate is.

The third proposal is that the householder be allowed to use free 600 cubic feet of water above the consumption recorded on his bill for the corresponding month of last year. That is to say, if the records showed a resident had used 600 cubic feet of water in June, 1934, he would be charged for that amount this year, but would have the privilege of using an additional 600 cubic feet free if he failed to use as much water as he did last year, then he would pay for the lesser amount.

OPPOSITION EXPECTED

When the matter comes up for consideration, opposition is anticipated from Mayor David Leeming and Alderman Walter Loney, and probably other members of the council who believe the city would lose revenue.

Alderman McGavin contends the city would not lose revenue. On the first scheme he believes the extra consumption of water would make up the loss in revenue from the reduced service charge.

Under the second plan, the city's revenue would be increased by the encouragement given for citizens to use more water, while under the third scheme the city would break even, inasmuch as the revenue would not be less than the previous year, and since the waterworks department has water to waste, the city would not be out of pocket in providing another 600 cubic feet to each householder.

PROVINCE TO RESIST FARM DEBT MEASURE

ation, and interferes with collections of the Province. The act, he said flatly, was ultra vires. Immediate court test will follow as soon as a suitable case can be selected.

LOANS $7,000,000

The announcement followed a conference between the Premier and Mr. Sloan, after receipt of advice from Hon. John Hart, who has just left Ottawa for Toronto.

The Premier confirmed the fact that British Columbia is to receive $1,000,000 in ordinary relief advances, in addition to $600,000 in a repurchase of relief accounts for April. Half of the million is earmarked for readiness to the municipalities and the balance for loans in connection with storm damage last January.

Asked if the $1,000,000 referred to was the full settlement intended in response to the Province's current requests for loans, Premier Pattullo said that the measure reversed principles of law in respect to insolvency and bankruptcy by taking property away from a creditor, thereby depriving him of his rights, and vesting it in a banker. The act, he stated, was interfering with Provincial rights and Provincial contracts in connection with Sumas lands and other undertakings, where the Province itself is the creditor.

RELIEF MEASURE

The end of the day appeared to leave the Province in a position of uncertainty in regard to its main requests for financial help from Ottawa, and at the same time definitely and publicly pledged to the launching of a court attack on a Federal law designed to relieve the debt position of farmers in Canada.

It was at no point suggested that such a course had been proposed by Mr. Hart, who is still in the East, while evidence that the decision was made here were not entirely lacking on the contrary.

Loans—British Columbia asked at Ottawa this year included $2,000,000 for improvement of British Columbia roads and $4,000,000 under relief advances, entirely apart from the Premier's own proposal that the Province be given some $15,000,000 toward a huge Federal work and wages programme, if undertaken.

A private loan to cover the $4,000,000 bridge scheme at New Westminster was said to be entirely outside of the Federal-Provincial negotiations.

The Province's ordinary operating budget for the current year is in the neighborhood of $23,000,000, to be raised by taxation and other forms of receipt.

A politician says, "There is nothing in which the demand exceeds the supply." He seems to have forgotten income tax.

AMERICAN TYPE HOMES ADOPTED

P. L. James Tells Real Estate Board of Building Trend in Old Country

In his recent visit to the Old Country P. L. James, Victoria architect, found that in the large number of new buildings that were being constructed there, a nearer approach to Canadian and American styles of architecture was quite apparent. In many of the new homes being erected, the more open style of design in the interior was noticeable. French doors utilized and other features familiar to Canadians brought into use.

Speaking before the Real Estate Board, yesterday, in Spencer's dining-room, Mr. James referred to the tremendous building schemes that revealed, being outlined by the state, and the buildings were very uniform in design and cheaply built. In some cities there was a marbling of the general appearance as a result of these buildings. He alluded to part of Glasgow being so marbled.

He found that in northern parts where good building stone was available, cheap bricks and tile roofing were supplanting the use of stone.

HOME OWNERS

This was not the class of houses that he referred to in his address, he said. The people of England and Scotland were becoming more and more of home owners rather than renters of homes. Money was easy to get for building there, through English building societies, which would advance up to 90 per cent of the cost of building. This made it possible for speculators to get money and keep on building.

In the better class of buildings, Mr. James found two styles of building, the modernistic and traditional, and a wide range of variations between the two. The modernistic wanted to scrap all that had gone before and build the traditional. On the other hand, the latter stuck to the old form like the classic and the Tudor, etc., as the essential model.

Mr. James said he had attended an exhibit in London of what was regarded as the newest styles of houses, which had been constructed from plans selected and built for exhibition purposes. The majority of them were modernistic. He found most of them excellent as to interior, but there was nothing new in them for a Canadian.

NARROW STAIRS

One thing that he noted was the strange idea with regard to stairways in most of these buildings. They were narrow, only four feet two inches wide in cases, while the tilling was of piping which reminded one of what would be found on a battleship.

The tendency in the Old Country was against freak houses. There were some sections which accepted them, but not generally.

Mr. James found that in many of the houses the old fireplaces were passing out and electric heating was very general, which allowed for regulating the heat to the requirements.

In passing, the speaker pointed out that in this country too much was being done for the humidity of the rooms counteracted the lack of too much heat. As a result of overheating, the life was taken

LAUDS ACTIONS OF GOVERNMENT

F. S. Cunliffe, Nanaimo, Addresses Ward Three Conservatives in City

"One of the best tributes that could have been paid to the Bennett administration at Ottawa was the admission by the Provincial Government here that it could not get along without assistance from the Federal Treasury," declared F. S. Cunliffe, barrister and president of the Nanaimo Conservative Association, in addressing members of Ward Three Conservative Association in the Campbell Building here, last night.

"Had it not been for the careful attention to the business of the country which resulted in the saving of $80,000,000 a year in the Dominion's operating budget, the country would not have been in a position to give assistance to any of the provinces," Mr. Cunliffe stated.

GOVERNMENT RECORD

Mr. Cunliffe dealt mainly with the record of the Conservative Government at Ottawa, mentioning particularly the benefits that had accrued from the trade policy carried out since the Ottawa Trade Conference, which resulted in an interchange of commerce between Empire countries and the Dominion.

Mr. Cunliffe quoted figures to support his contention that the Ottawa agreements had been of direct benefit to Canada. In 1930, Canada, he said, had an adverse trade balance of $103,000,000; in 1931 there was an adverse balance of $88,000,000. From 1932, when the agreements were made, there was a steady increase in a favorable direction. The favorable trade balance in 1932 was $9,000,000; in 1933 it was $74,000,000, and at the close of 1934 it had reached $151,000,000.

Increases in Canadian exports to Empire countries, he stated, from 1932 to 1934 were as follows: To the United Kingdom, 51 per cent; to Australia, 133 per cent; to New Zealand, 15 per cent; and to New Zealand, 95 per cent. Increases in Canadian imports from Empire countries were noted as follows: From the United Kingdom the increase from 1932 to 1934 was 20 per cent; from Australia, 27 per cent; from British South Africa, 86 per cent; from Newfoundland, 22 per cent; and from New Zealand, 362 per cent.

EFFECT OF AGREEMENTS

The effect of the Ottawa agreements on the lumber industry of British Columbia was reviewed by Mr. Cunliffe. Prior to 1932, he said, Empire purchases from British Columbia amounted to 22 per cent of the total imports of lumber while the remaining 78 per cent was imported from Washington and Oregon. The trade agreements, he stated, had changed the situation and the latest figures showed Empire countries were now purchasing 85 per cent from British Columbia and only 15 per cent from Washington and Oregon, resulting in an increase in employment from 9,200 in 1932 to 13,600 in 1934.

Mr. Cunliffe also touched briefly on payments made to provinces for immediate unemployment relief. In this connection he referred to the statements of the Liberal leader with reference to assistance to provinces prior to the 1930 general election.

The address of Mr. Cunliffe was preceded by an invocation, and followed by a prayer, assisted by Al Goodwin as master of ceremonies. Thirty amateurs took part in the programme and the prizes were awarded by Mrs. K. Palmer, president of the Women's Conservative Association, to Evelyn McLaren, Norma Joan Dunn, Bobby McVie and Jack Tregella.

Annual Pet Show To Be Held Soon

Through the courtesy of Mr. Kyle Symons, the annual pet show arranged by H.M.S. Resolution Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held in St. Michael's School grounds, corner of Hampshire Road and Windsor Road, on Saturday afternoon, June 15.

There will be classes arranged for different varieties of pets, and those intending to enter their animal or bird chums are urged to waste no time in getting them into the best possible condition. Prizes will be awarded in each section, and no effort is being spared to make the affair even more of a success than in previous years.

Proceeds will be used to further the work of the chapter in the outlying parts of British Columbia, and for educational work.

The corymbic phase of religion was demonstrated some time ago in Park Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, and more recently in Columbia, Mo., where ten girls of the Christian College danced their interpretation of such hymns as "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" and "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

ST. JOHN'S

Mr. Greenhead of the Mutual Auto Sales, presented an address to the members of St. John's A.Y.P.A. when his topic was "The Evolution of the Motor Car." Many humorous observations of the past were described. Following the talk the closing social for the season was held, when numerous games and contests were enjoyed. A lively treasure hunt concluded the programme. Miss Dodds and her committee being responsible for refreshments. It was announced a rally of all A.Y.P.A. branches would be held in St. John's Hall on June 18, when the election of delegates to the Provincial Council will take place, followed by an old-time social. Tomorrow the regular corporate luncheon and breakfast will be held.

Another dry shampoo that is simple to use is composed solely of egg whites. To prepare it, take the whites of two eggs and beat them to a stiff consistency. Then apply the egg whites to your hair and massage your scalp well with your fingertips. After this massaging, permit the egg whites to dry thoroughly on the hair. When thoroughly dry, brush your hair briskly, in order to remove all the flakes of egg white. And as in the previous routine, part your hair and cleanse your scalp with a dampened cloth. This procedure will remove all accumulated dirt, dust and oil from your hair, and will leave it clean, soft and lustrous.

Trio Club Listens to Criticisms

The members of the Wednesday Trio Club were entertained this week by Mrs. Gurney, at her home on Quadra Street. The meeting took the form of a social hour, bringing to a close a season of vocal study, trio and quartette work and ensemble singing, under the leadership of Mrs. Georgina Watt, assisted by Mrs. Ruth Anstey at the piano.

A great deal of pleasure and satisfaction was felt by all the club in reading over the criticisms by Dr. Duns of their work in the recent musical festival, when they were successful in gaining the silver cup presented by the Bursdale Club for winners in the ensemble singing class.

During the afternoon Mrs. Watt was thanked for her untiring efforts on behalf of the club, and her splendid musicianship, and was presented with an appropriate gift from the club. Mrs. Anstey was also the recipient of a gift as an expression of the appreciation of her work as honorary accompanist.

Weddings

COOPER-WEST

DUNCAN, May 31.—A pretty home wedding was celebrated Thursday morning at "Lakewood," Duncan, the home of the bride's parents, when Rev. Peter Jamieson united in marriage Thelma Isabel, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur West, and Mr. James Cooper, of B. quinn. The house was gaily decorated with flowers, and the ceremony was performed under a floral archway and beautiful wedding bell. The bride, who was given away by her father, made a pretty picture in her tailored fawn traveling suit, with which she wore a becoming white hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet. She was attended by her sister, Miss Doris West, in smart pale green suit with white hat and accessories, and Miss Margaret West, in blue and white. Both bridesmaids wore corsage bouquets. The groomsmen were Mr. Harry Neale, of Chemainus.

The wedding party was entertained at a luncheon and reception following the ceremony. The luncheon table, which was covered by a beautiful lace cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Arthur West, mother of the bride, wore a smart navy blue costume with hat en suite, and was assisted by her daughter, Miss Veronica West, who wore a pretty Nile green suit and white hat. Many beautiful wedding gifts were received by the popular young couple. Miss West had been employed for the past eight years at the Crosland Seed Farm. After a honeymoon spent on the Mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper will make their home in Victoria.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

BIDDING PYROTECHNICS

Sometimes players will throw all rules to the wind when they are in a claim contract on the theory that a declarer has discounted that possibility and is figuring on a normal opening. Occasionally, such a player proves successful, but in the majority of cases it will bring disaster.

In the "hand" below the normal lead would defeat the contract badly, but West erred, and declarer made his contract.

1. In the Culbertson system this takeout is a one-round force.

2. North knows that it is useless to bid merely three spades. He must decide at once whether he wants the hand to be played at game.

At several tables of a duplicate game South played four spades, going down one, in every case because the opening lead was uniformly the queen of clubs. At one table the North-South pair had delusions of grandeur, and arrived at six spades. After a theory South made contract. At this table the West player, overawed by a display of bidding pyrotechnics, feared to open for his honors in hearts or clubs. East had doubled six spades with gusto, and West, rather than that East wanted a diamond opening, West therefore started off with the diamond seven. East won with the ace, and after a look at dummy saw no reason to be apprehensive. Instead of cashing his club ace he boldly returned the diamond in the hope that West could ruff.

South stepped up with the king of diamonds and then took four rounds of trumps, North letting go the heart four. A parade of diamonds followed, and the end situation was very distressing to the

What Today Means

"GEMINI"

If June 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 1:45 to 3:45 p.m., and from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 11:45 a.m. to 1:45 p.m., from 3:45 to 5:45 p.m., and from 10:45 p.m. to midnight. . . . Disregarding the rights of others, is likely to result in a lot of trouble today, so be careful you are not guilty of it. Conditions promotive of delays, especially affecting transportation facilities, are liable to be noticeable on this date, so it is advisable to allow yourself ample time, if you plan going some place. It will be wise to ignore the peculiarity of a friend or relative that you may be thrown in contact with today. It might be well to remember that a lot of parents are blint to their children's shortcomings. If tempted to criticize some child's behavior to its father or mother, it might be good judgment not to do so, unless you use the soft pedal in a tactful manner. Be cautious how you offer to pull someone's chestnuts out of fire, for you run the chances of getting burnt. Should you neglect your part in a social gathering which you may attend, the resentment that follows may create an embarrassing episode. Married and engaged couples, and sweethearts, should be very careful to do nothing to arouse the green-eyed monster today, for explanations are likely to be difficult. If a woman and June 1 is your birthday, you may be inclined to take offense too readily for your own peace of mind, as well as your own happiness. Overcome any tendency to anticipate slight. Your friends and relatives are, as a whole, loyal and loving. With very little exertion you can make friends. You need to mingle more with people and should take an interest in church and social affairs. Do not prize winger in the lottery of marriage. The child born on June 1, when it arrives at school age, may show an inclination to be rather reserved, and prefer books to companionship. This predilection can be corrected with little trouble. If a man, and June 1 is your natal day, if you do not let discourage, ment thwart your plans, you should achieve eminent success through possibly law, medicine, literature, well financially. You should be a man, a manufacturer, a businessman or an

AMBITIOUS REVUE HAS STRONG CAST

Dick Powell Has Lead in "Gold Diggers of 1935"—Dancing Feature in Production

The "Airflow" figure predominates in the new chorus. Bubbly Berkeley trained at the First National studios for "Gold Diggers of 1935," which comes to the Capitol Theatre today. Hollywood has become "aerodynamic" conscious concerning feminine beauty.

In several of the spectacular numbers which Berkeley staged for the new "Gold Diggers," the "airflow" figures of the girls are emphasized by the use of long, diaphanous, flowing gowns of filmy white materials, so arranged that they "flow" the moving figures of the girls, creating effects much like the "lines" of the new motor cars and airplanes.

The picture is a gigantic musical

DUNCAN CHAMBER HEARS ADDRESSES

Inspiring Messages of Greeting Brought From Victoria—Officers Are Elected

DUNCAN, May 31.—W. T. Strath, of Victoria, vice-president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, addressed the annual meeting of the Duncan Chamber of Commerce at the Black Cat restaurant here on Tuesday evening. Mr. Strath's address was a cheering one. Times were definitely improving, he said, and the unemployed in British Columbia were to a large extent from other sections of the country. Mr. Strath brought warm greetings from Victoria and assured the meeting that Victorians were becoming island-minded and wanted to see the whole island developed.

Leslie Osborne, president of the Victoria Junior Chamber, was also present and brought a message of good will. He spoke briefly of the work of the Junior Chamber, whose program is to instill civic pride into the people and to give confidence and experience to young businessmen. Both speakers were heartily thanked for their addresses.

Selection of officers brought reelection to the president, Robert Sanderson, and the vice-president, Major L. C. Rattray. J. A. Macdonald was elected secretary in place of A. H. Peterson, who had served in that capacity for many years. Mr. Peterson was forced to retire owing to pressure of duties in connection with the control board of the British Columbia coast. The president of the executive was left in the hands of the president.

Mr. Sanderson outlined the work of the chamber during the past year, which showed that many activities had been carried on for the benefit of the district. A resolution presented by Major Rattray was adopted, which asked for a complete survey of the waters off the coast of Vancouver Island as a basis for the regulation of the commercial fishing trade.

Thanks were accorded the officials of the past year and also to J. A. Macdonald for the use of his restaurant for meetings during the year.

Mother: Why didn't you come at once when I called you, Betty? Betty: Well, you didn't call as I, you were annoyed, Mummy.

Giants Widen Lead In National League By Capturing Pair

New York Club Trims Braves Twice to Stretch Margin to Five and a Half Games—Detroit Noses Out St. Louis, 6-5—White Sox Drop Game to Cleveland, 6-2

NATIONAL LEAGUE
BOSTON, May 31 (AP).—The fast-stepping New York "Giants" stretched their winning streak to seven games and their National League lead to five and one-half games today by capturing the cellar-dwelling Braves in both ends of a double-header, 15 to 3 and 4 to 2.

It was the second of three straight bargain bills for both teams, and the Giants in particular showed signs of weariness after they had slammed out twenty-two assorted hits in the first game for their biggest total of the season. The second game wound up in a heavy rain, and that apparently cost Carl Hubbell a shutout. Four of the Braves twelve hits and both their runs were made in that inning.

INDIANAS BEAT SOX
CHICAGO, May 31 (AP).—The combined pitching efforts of Clint Brown and Mel Harder and a lot of local play on their own part combined to shove the White Sox deeper into second place in the American League today, as the Cleveland Indians won the series final, 6 to 2.

The defeat left the Sox a game and a half behind the New York Yankees, who assumed the leadership yesterday, while Cleveland trailed one game farther back. Al Simmons, veteran Chicago outfielder, was benched because of a leg ailment and a hitting slump that has given him a 200 average for the last dozen games. R. H. E.

FRED PERRY AND AUSTIN REACH SEMIS

English Pair Advance in French Tourney—Helen Jacobs Triumphs

PARIS, May 31 (AP).—Helen Jacobs drew a step closer to the French hard-court tennis championship today as play moved into the semi-final round in both men's and women's singles.

The American champion's decisive conquest of Mme. Sylvia Henrotin, of France, featured a day of mediocre tennis, in which favorites, almost without exception, advanced in straight sets.

Miss Jacobs, in fine form and never threatened, blasted Mme. Henrotin out of the tournament, 6-4, 6-2. By her victory, the Belle, Calif., girl qualified to meet Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling, of Germany, in the semi-finals tomorrow. The German star eliminated S. Mone Iribarne, of France, 6-2, 6-2, but will be a distinct second-choice against Miss Jacobs.

ENGLISHMEN WIN

The British Davis Cup aces, Fred Perry and H. W. "Bunny" Austin, went into the men's semi-finals, along with Baron Gottfried Von Cramm, of Germany, defending champion, and Jack Crawford, of Australia, the 1933 titleholder.

Austin faced a stern challenge before disposing of Roderich Menzel, of Czechoslovakia, 1-6, 10-8, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2. Vivian McGrath, of Australia, fell victim to Von Cramm, 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. Perry ousted Christian Bousias, of France, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4, while the only French survivor, Marcel Bernard, lost to Crawford, 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

The pairing will send Perry against Crawford and Austin against Von Cramm.

Inter-School Meet Billed Next Week at Cranmore Road

STAGED annually by the Oak Bay Schools' Sports Association, the inter-school track and field meet, open to all schools in the municipality of Oak Bay, will be held next Friday afternoon at the Cranmore Road grounds. There will be three distinct classes, junior, intermediate and senior, with the best athletes from the many educational institutions running in each division. The first race is expected to start at 3 o'clock.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT . . . . . By Ripley

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Dog Express—in 1844, two Englishmen established what they called a "caniposte" between Blanken-bergh and Bruges, Belgium. Four whippets harnessed to a railroad car regularly carried fish over the distance of ten miles in record time. A dead rabbit was fastened in front of them, and they were not allowed to leap upon it until after their run was completed. For the rapid transportation of mail over the same route, two whippets were harnessed to a lighter express car, with a stuffed rabbit dangling before them. Hunger supplied the motive power in both cases. The caniposte was in satisfactory operation for quite a few years.

A Record in "Bookkeeping"—In 1883 Victor H. Middleton, pharmacist, of Grand Rapids, Mich., loaned a book, Wythe's Pocket Dose Book, to one of his apprentices. It was not returned until 1933, when the apprentice's son gave it back to Mr. Middleton's son, Louis V., who still operates the drug store in Grand Rapids.

Ross Avoids Jimmy's Long Left

Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver's great little fighter, leads a long left that Barney Ross, Chicago, who regained the welterweight championship Tuesday night in New York, avoided by back-stepping. The fight, which went the distance, fifteen rounds, was a furious battle from the start, and when the two judges and Referee Jack Dempsey awarded the verdict and title to Ross, the crowd booed to their heart's content. The Associated Press gave Ross ten rounds, four to McLarnin and one even; but the other sport critics varied on the decision, as did several notable characters of the fight game, including Gene Tunney and Benny Leonard, former heavyweight and lightweight champions.

SCOTTISH TEAM GIVEN BANQUET

Provincial Government Is Host to Victorious Soccer Players Here

Sixty persons attended the banquet given last evening at the Empress Hotel by the Provincial Government to the victorious Scottish soccer eleven. Alderman James Adam occupied the chair.

Alderman Adam, on behalf of the Dominion Football Association, wished to thank Premier Pattullo and the Government, and regretted that no official representative was present. He paid tribute to the game put up by the Vancouver Island team against the visitors.

Mayor David Leeming tendered a hearty welcome to the Scottish team and the Vancouver Island "Rep" eleven. He thought the playing of the visitors would undoubtedly help the Islanders, improve their form.

Speaking to the Scots, the Mayor hoped that they would go away with pleasant recollections of Victoria, and that they would return again. He wished them every success on their forthcoming Canadian tour, but expressed a desire that some Canadian team would ring up a victory against them. He explained

D. WILSON PERFORMS "HAT TRICK" IN 5-0 VICTORY OVER REPS

Visiting Centre Forward Nets Trio of Goals in Team's Triumph—Crowd Disappointed at Miserable Showing of Island Squad—3,500 Fans Attend the Exhibition

Banging home four markers in the first half and another in the early stages of the final canto, the touring Scottish professional soccer players chalked up their seventh straight victory of their present tour of Canada and the United States, yesterday evening at the Royal Athletic Park, when they trounced a Vancouver Island "rep" side, 5-0.

D. Wilson, English-born player, and a member of the Hamilton Academicals, led the visitors' scoring brigade with the "hat-trick" in the initial half. W. Miller, of the Park Thistle, added the other first-session marker, and Tommy Walker, clever Hearts forward, completed the scoring in the early minutes of the last half.

More than 3,500 soccer fans made their way to the enclosure to see the highly-touted Scottish players perform against the cream of Vancouver Island's football talent, but the fixture, while productive of some smart football by the visitors, was on the whole, very disappointing.

The Island players appeared to be suffering from a severe case of the "litters," particularly in the initial stanza, and while they played better in the final canto, they failed to function as a team, and their feeble attempts at individual play got them nowhere against the visitors.

"Fat" Edmonds, veteran Nanaimo fullback, and Louis De Costa, Victoria goalie, were easily the pick of the Vancouver Island side. Edmonds broke up a number of dangerous plays with his effective work on the Island defence, and De Costa saved many sizzling shots that were tickled for the goal.

The visitors flashed some brilliant football at different stages during the match, with Tommy Walker, the youngster with the educated feet, showing some clever ball manipulation and control, and the other members of the front rank combining nicely. The halfback line played good football, and the defence, while they had little to do, did it in a capable manner. Stevenson, the Scottish goalie, had an easy time and was never really tested to enable the fans to see just what kind of a netminder he really is.

After the match, the visitors went to Bay Street Armories, where they were entertained by Canadian Scottish. They left for Vancouver on the night boat.

SCORES GREAT GOAL

Eight minutes later the visitors made it 3-0 when D. Wilson hooked the ball over his head and into the net after De Costa punched clear from Main's drive from the right half.

The fourth and final marker of the first canto came one minute before the rest interval when D. Wilson breasted the ball into the net after Main had lobbed it towards the goal from the right wing. De Costa jumped to punch clear and Wilson sent the loose ball into the net while Gavin, Island fullback, made a gallant attempt to cover up for the absent goalie.

Tommy Walker, brilliant youngster playing centre forward for the visitors, completed the scoring in the first eleven minutes of the final half when he found the corner of the net with a high shot that was out of De Costa's reach. The feature of this half was the fine exhibition of goalkeeping by the Island net custodian, who turned aside a shot after shot that the visitors fired at him from all angles.

Vancouver Island, playing a little better in this canto, carried play to their opponents' end of the field at intervals, but were never really dangerous. George Payne, Victoria youngster, led drive with one terrific shot during this half and the ball just sailed over the bar. It was the Islanders' nearest approach to scoring during the entire fixture.

Towards the end of the match the fans, never once roused to any excitement, began to tire of the exhibition. The cold May evening did not make things any better, and before the fixture ended a number of the fans had left for home and comfort.

T. M. Robb referred. Dave McMillan and Ralph Acock ran the lines, and teams lined up as follows: Scottish—W. Stevenson, A. Anderson, C. Cunningham, D. McKelvie, John R. Donnelly, R. McDonald, D. Main, T. Walker, D. Wilson, W. Miller and A. Ferguson.

Island—L. De Costa, A. Gavin, R. Edmonds, R. Williams, R. Barnes, J. Knight, G. Bell, A. Stewart, D. Waugh, U. Gray and G. Payne.

BAHRAM EVEN MONEY CHOICE FOR ENGLISH DERBY

Aga Khan's Colt Strong Favorite To Capture Race

Unbeaten Horse of English Turf First Choice to Gallop to Victory in Classic Event Next Wednesday—Only Handful of Others Conceded Chance to Win—Odds Given

LONDON, May 31 (CP).—His chief opponent out of the race, the Aga Khan's unbeaten colt Bahram tonight was overwhelming favorite for the Derby, an even-money choice.

The scratching of Lord Derby's colt Bobbleigh, rated the only other three-year-old capable of giving Bahram a struggle over the mile and a half course at Epsom Downs, left the Aga Khan's grand little colt the hottest Derby favorite in many years.

Only a handful of others were conceded a chance, and most promising of these are Bahram's two stable-mates, Haiman and Theft, 10 to 4 chances in tonight's caller.

Much the same situation ruled tonight, with the blue ribbon of the turf set for Wednesday afternoon, as prevailed a year ago. On that occasion the unbeaten Colombo was overwhelming favorite, but he was beaten nevertheless, and Windsor I-II after taking Colombo's measure went on to win St. Leger, too.

BAHRAM LOOKS BEST

Not even the owners of Bahram's opponents in the 1934 renewal of the greatest flat race in the world think they have any more than a bare outside chance. But the Aga Khan, who will run all three of his colts in the greatest one-stable challenge ever made in the Derby, is not backing any of them.

"I think Bahram has the best chance," said the Indian potentate who won the Derby once before, in 1930 with Blenheim. "But if the Aga Khan's colt Bahram should run equally well," which leaves the Aga Khan complacent.

Bahram beat the same field in the first of the three open classics for three-year-olds, the Two Thousand Guineas at Newmarket a month ago.

In tonight's roll-over of odds C. W. Gordon's Sea Bequest was rated next to the Aga Khan's Bahram, at odds of 100 to 1 against Bahram.

The Aga Khan admits he is "a little afraid" of Field Trial.

OTHER ODDS

Other odds are 25 to 1 against Bahram; 28 to 1 against Field Trial; 30 to 1 against Robin Goodfellow and Screamer; 60 to 1 against Assignment; 80 to 1 against Pry Secundo; 100 to 1 against Plymouth Sound; 125 to 1 against Japetus; 150 to 1 against Barberry; and 200 to 1 against Peaceful Walter and St. Botolph.

All seventeen are ready to start, but St. Botolph may not run.

In special place betting odds of 4 to 1 against Bahram were taken, indicating his popularity.

A. E. Berry, owner of Peaceful Walter, is one of the few who do not think Bahram will win. Talner Hogg, who starts Screamer, said the race "appears to be a foregone conclusion for Bahram."

Ross Regaining Crown

Jimmy McLarnin, left, and Barney Ross, in their world's welterweight championship fight at the Polo Grounds in New York last Tuesday night, are shown feinting for a lead with their respective rights, which each has cocked as he seeks an opening for it. Barney won the bout and regained the title after a furious battle. Ross was credited with winning ten rounds, four to McLarnin and one even, but the crowd backed lustily the verdict of the referee and the two judges.

Long-Distance Runners to Seek U.S. Title Today—Komonen Entered

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP).—Canada's Dave Komonen, one of the most plodding runners who torture themselves for twenty-six miles in sport's longest foot race, will set off tomorrow in quest of fame in the fourth annual Washington Evening Star battle for the United States Amateur Athletic Union championship.

Over perhaps the most picturesque and historic marathon course in the country, the racers will leave the gates of Mount Vernon, home of George Washington, run along the Memorial Highway bordering the broad Potomac River, through Alexandria, Va., into Washington, past the Capitol, and finish at the zero milestone behind the White House.

The victor for the past two years, Komonen, Sudbury, Ont., mine carpenter, was regarded as the favorite, although he faces a real battle from the ranks of Baltimore, and others in the fastest field this race has ever drawn.

By JEAN NEWTON

"MEN WILLINGLY BELIEVE WHAT THEY WISH!"

"Don't tell me," said a man who wanted to know the truth, "what I like to hear. Tell me what I ought to hear."

A little introspection will easily convince even those of us who are hard-boiled how truly big is the individual who is concerned with what he should know about himself rather than what it pleases him to listen to. Do we believe people who expose our faults, reveal our defects, put the spotlight on our weaknesses? Or do we swallow those who make a fuss over us, tell us how wonderful we are, make us feel good?

The answer, as the great Roman general, Julius Caesar, observed in his "Commentaries on the Gallic War," has always been the same: "Men willingly believe what they wish."

"What are you doing," asked St. Simlin, "Catchin' butterflies?"

"No," answered Farmer Cornucopaeus, "Tryin' to save some of my top soil that's been carried off by the wind."

BY-LAW GIVEN ROUGH PASSAGE

Municipal Officers' Duties
Measure Causes Lengthy
Aldermanic Debate

The municipal officers' duties by-law, investing D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller and treasurer, with wide powers, finally passed out of the committee stage of the City Council yesterday, but not until after it had been given a rough passage.

Opponents to the by-law won a partial victory, but failed to take the teeth out of the legislation. Chief objection centred on those clauses which empowered the comptroller to supervise all departments and from time to time make reports to the council with a view to effecting economies, and improving the efficiency of any department.

OPPOSING TRIO

Aldermen Walter Lunney, Archie Wills and Andrew Macdonald fought the battle to take the teeth out of the by-law insofar as the comptroller's general powers were concerned, but failed to gain the support of any other aldermen in favor of their motion to delete one clause in particular, which gave the comptroller supervision over all departments.

The chief objection to this clause was that the comptroller could not supervise something he knew nothing about, he used the phraseology of Alderman Lunney.

Opponents wished to restrict the supervising powers to the financial end of civic business, and to the office staff.

"You would not ask your city engineer to supervise the financial work of the city, so why expect the comptroller to supervise an engineering undertaking or expect him to tell the fire chief how to run his department," Alderman Lunney declared.

"We don't expect him to," the Mayor replied. "We expect him to use common sense. These powers are given only that he may rectify any abuses."

The arguments throughout the meeting hinged on these two contentions, and were the same throughout, and were the same in spirit, and each side brought forward various cases to illustrate its points.

WIN ONE POINT

On a motion sponsored by Alderman Wills, a clause giving power to the comptroller to "guide the work of the departments according to up-to-date methods" was struck out. The opponents to the measure at least won this victory, although they failed in obtaining the great victory, which would have restricted the comptroller to a supervision of only the financial interests of the city.

Another point upon which the opponents won was in connection with the clause authorizing the comptroller to recommend to the council increases or deductions in salaries. It was felt that these matters should be dealt with by the committee governing the various departments, and the clause was amended to read that the comptroller report his recommendations to the committee concerned.

Throughout the debate of the by-law, clause by clause, there were flashes of acrimony, but the meeting finally ended harmoniously. The question of holidays for outside employees, which also is incorporated in the by-law, was left in abeyance until the next meeting of the council.

Jane Dixon Says:

BEST MISTAKES SHOULD NOT BE HELD AGAINST MAN WHO HAS TURNED NEW LEAF

Is it possible for us to live down our reckless or lurid past? Of course it is possible.

If it were not so, this would be a pretty hopeless old world to wag in.

Our past mistakes are held against us by human and humane persons only when we stubbornly or defiantly or thoughtlessly go on making them.

Kind hearts forgive and do their utmost to forget our past, when they see we are making conscientious efforts to build our lives on a new firm and four-square foundation.

HAS REFORMED NOW—

"Dear Jane Dixon: For more than five years I have heard mother and other talking about the son of a close friend of hers. He had been divorced by his wife eight years ago, was engaged to another girl who has since married. He drank too much, and made an awful reputation for himself.

"About a year ago I met him and he seemed very pleasant. I began seeing him and we fell in love. Because I objected to his drinking he gave it up when he was with me, and last August he stopped drinking liquor entirely, only taking wines, beer and liquors in moderation.

"Though he is forty and I am twenty-five, we are so congenial. We like the same sports, plays, books, even the same food. He is always kind and thoughtful and planning for the future when he hopes I will marry him. I do love him, but I must solve some problems before I accept him.

"He has made such an awful reputation for himself as a drinker, and people's memories are so long. Do you think I could be happy with him if people continued to refer to his bad past?

"Do you think that fifteen years' difference in age, which doesn't seem so much now, will be too much later on?"

"Do you think from what I have written you of his good conduct in regard to liquor will last?"

"My last question, which is so important to me is: I love my mother not only as a mother, but as the best and closest friend I have. She disapproves of him as a husband for me, which is natural, as a mother always wants the best in the world for her child. But she says if I love him she will make the best of our marriage. Do you think I will hurt her terribly by marrying in the face of her disapproval?"—D. A. W.

HE MUST EXERCISE OWN WILL POWER

Answer: Anyone who continues to harp on the past of man or woman who is living his honorable and upright present is not qualified, either in heart or mind, to express a sound opinion, and you nor any other regular human being should lend an ear to such chatter.

Certainly anyone who had the effrontery and the bad taste to refer to the unfortunate past of a husband in his wife's presence or within her hearing, should be barred from decent society.

In my opinion, the difference in your ages makes more difference now than it will later, and since you say it makes no difference now, it is fair to suppose your congeniality will continue.

Will his good conduct in regard to liquor hold after marriage? That, my dear, is an eventuality I cannot foresee. Men have made such decisions, and have kept to them through life. Neither reason nor precedent is opposed to your hope. In point of time, he has had a pretty fair test since he has kept to his resolution since last August. This proves he has will power, but no one can exercise that will except himself. A sensible and understanding woman like you can help him to hold fast, but the actual holding is his job.

You're a fortunate girl to have your mother for your best friend, and to see her point of view. She may be hurt by your marrying a man whose worthiness she doubts, but in the end she will be happy only in your happiness and your success. She has told you she would make the best of this marriage because of your love for the man. Since she is you and to the man she entrusts you to, to make her best the very best possible—that is, to prove to her, by your consideration for her and for each other, that your love is a shining light, and your marriage a true and ennobling partnership.

CHAPTER XXIV

About seven I arose. I found that exhausted fugitives from the smoking, blood-soaked frontier were streaming in, to be taken care of by the people of the town.

To and fro the good people of Pitt hastened on their errands of pity; others gathered in groups discussing openly the riot of the previous evening.

People and soldiers had at last come to blows; blood had flowed, although nobody exactly understood for what reason it had been shed. Patched pates and plastered cheeks were plentiful about the streets, but there appeared to be no effort to arrest any citizen whose body or apparel bore marks of the conflict. That morning I settled my reckoning with my host of the Virginia Arms. As he appeared uneasy about the reckoning of Jack Mount and the Weasel, I settled that, too. I paid Rolfe somewhat scornfully, however, for I felt that the friends of liberty ought to trust each other implicitly.

I was curd with the fellow as he left my room; but when Captain Renard strode in a few moments later, I was astonished to learn that this same James Rolfe had aided Mount to throw the tea-chests into the sea, and had begged himself in contributing to every secret patriotic society in Boston.

"He'll lend me what he has," said the Weasel, "but he would be unpleasant if I attempted to escape from here without a reckoning. I am glad you paid; we have no money."

It was now past 8 o'clock and still no reply had come to me from either Dunmore or Silver Heels. I was fairly atwitter with restless anxiety. Nor was the Weasel's continued conversation soothing.

"If you were a deputy of Sir William Johnson's, Dunmore would have jailed you for what you said," he remarked. "You have cast the last grain into the scales and they have tipped him out, repudiated and dishonored. But Walter Butler lives, friend Michael. Beware, sir!" Just then Mount came in noisily.

"Mr. Cardigan is in some pressing trouble," the Weasel promptly told him.

"Do you think the runner I hired to carry my letter to Sir William will be scalped?" I presently asked, turning to look at Mount.

"He has been scalped," said Mount, quietly.

Thunderstruck, I finally found tongue to ask how he knew.

"Why, lad," he said, modestly, "I followed your runner last night, and he had not gone ten paces from this inn ere a man left the shadow of the trees yonder to dog us both. I caught the fellow by the waist, yonder, and trounced him soundly. Then I followed your runner, but they delayed me at the fortress gate. When I cleared the sentries I started to run; but my journey was short."

He paused, then added, abruptly, "Your messenger Jay dead by the woods edge. Walter Butler's men did this and your letter is now in Dunmore's hands."

"The sooner you leave Pitt the safer for you," said Mount. "The town talks of little but your accusation of Dunmore last night. Dunmore and Butler will treat you as they did your messenger if you give them half a chance. Tush, lad! This is no time for boyish fury. Get your kinswoman, Miss Warren, out of this town. Get her out tonight."

At that moment Rolfe came up from below, bearing a letter for me, and saying that it had been brought hither by a servant in Lady Shelton's livery.

I took the letter; the seal had already been broken.

Rolfe pointed to it, shaking his head. "I so received it, Mr. Cardigan. That seal may have been broken by accident, but you best know, sir, what your foe might gain by a knowledge of your letters."

"The sooner we leave here the happier we shall be," said the Weasel, cheerfully. "Jimmy Rolfe, that stout post chaise, well provisioned, and four strong horses tonight help us tonight, eh, friends?"

"I cannot pay for that," I said, blankly, looking up from my letter. "The chaise is yours," said Rolfe, resentfully. "Pay when you can, sir; I trade not with friends in need." And he went out, disrespectfully slamming the door.

"A rare man," said Mount, "but touchy, lad, touchy."

"He is a loyal friend," I said, reddening. "I have much to learn of men."

I went over to the window and, leaning against the bars, read:

"Dear Cozen Michael—I am not permitted to accompany you today to Johnston. It being a racing day and I pledged to attend with Lady Shelton."

low me and tell her bout of a father where I may be found."

We were now in sight of the flag-covered pavilion on Roanoke Plain, and on either side of us the road was lined with drinking-booths and peddler stands and show tents. Nor had Mount, for he scarcely glanced at the booths as we passed.

"Suddenly he said, 'This will not do; I have been hunted long enough!'"

"What are you going to do?" I asked.

"Hunt in my turn," he said grimly.

The change in him was amazing; his air, his patronage, his chaff, his lightning wit—it was the old Mount again, quaffing a cup of ale, pledging every pretty face that passed.

"Which is the maid?" I asked, under my breath.

"Yonder, stopping to stare at gingerbread. Now she turns; mark! It is she with the pink print and the chip hat."

"I see her," said I.

She was a healthy, red-cheeked, blue-eyed girl, with lips a trifle over-full. She appeared uneasy and uncertain, watching Mount when he raised a laugh.

She had been edging nearer, and now stood close to us, at the entrance to an arbor wherein were set benches in little corners.

He smiled in her face and made her a very low bow, drawing a furrow through the dust with the fluffy tail of his coonskin cap.

She seemed startled and abashed, but Mount bent beside her to whisper and smile and entreat her to taste a glass of currant wine with us.

I do not know to this day why she consented. Perhaps she thought to confirm her suspicions and entrap some admission from Mount. At any rate, we three soon sat in the arbor.

The end had already begun; Mount rose lightly to his feet and drew the girl with him, turning her quickly by the shoulders and looking straight into her eyes.

"Why do you follow me?" he asked, coolly.

The color left her face; her eyes flew wide open with fright.

"I shall not hurt you, little fool!" he said. "I had rather your father, the thief-taker, look me than harm you. Yes, I am that same Jack Mount. You are poor; they will pay you for compassing my arrest. Come, shall we seek your father, Billy Bishop, the taker of thieves?"

He drew her toward the gate, but she fell a-whimpering and caught his arm, hiding her face in his buckskin sleeve.

Disgusted, I waited a moment, then turned back and walked out into the sunshine, where I paced to and fro until at last Mount joined me, wearing a scowl.

As we turned away together I glanced into the arbor and saw our lass still sitting at the table with her head buried in her arms and her pink shell-lac on the grass.

As for the Mount, he said nothing except that, though he no longer feared the girl, he meant hereafter to trust to his heels in similar situations.

RELIEF CAMP WORKERS

Sir,—Transportation to Vancouver being provided, the striking Relief Camp workers in the city will say farewell on Sunday evening and proceed on their way to Ottawa, there to present their case.

Before leaving we take the opportunity to thank our many friends and sympathizers for the whole-hearted support and understanding they have shown toward us, especially young people's organizations, the Women's League for Social Justice, the Joint Committee of Action, and others.

All are asked to be at the C.P.R. Dock on Sunday evening to see us off, and bid us good bye.

RICHARD ARMSTRONG,
Convener, Publicity Committee, Striking Relief Camp Workers.
608 1-2 Cormorant Street, Victoria, B.C., May 31, 1935.

This golf "interlude" occurred during a case at Lewis Addies' Counsel asked a witness whether golf was an expensive game to play.

"It all depends upon where you are playing and whom you are playing with," was the reply.

"And also on whether it is a hot day," added Lord Hewari, the Lord Chief Justice.

Then counsel mentioned "the nineteenth hole."

"Is that the hole which is sometimes called the also-hole?" asked Lord Hewari, amid laughter.
